CASCO Pet brings space-saving veterinary ward cabinetry solutions to WVC 2025

Global animal housing provider CASCO Pet will unveil its latest veterinary ward kenneling storage solutions designed to optimize space, improve workflow efficiency and withstand the heavy demands of veterinary operations, at the WVC Annual Conference in Las Vegas, Nevada, USA, in March.

The space-saving range has been carefully designed with the unique needs of busy clinics and hospitals in mind, crafted from hard-wearing and durable materials for greater robustness, longevity and easy cleaning and maintenance. The specialized veterinary cabinetry allows for efficient, clutter-free spaces that keep essential items and equipment organized and within easy reach, for improved workflows and more efficient delivery of care.

Understanding how the ward environment impacts patient experience, CASCO Pet's cabinetry and storage offerings allow veterinary teams quiet and convenient access to supplies without disturbing patients – reducing stress for both staff and patients and enhancing workplace safety.

The veterinary range includes specialist storage for cat carriers, under-kennel drawers, pull-out compartments for critical tools and overhead cupboards featuring touch-to-open and soft-close doors. The CASCO Pet booth will also feature examples of large cupboards with leash hooks and compartments to keep bulkier items neatly stored, a foot-operated waste bin for hygienic and hands-free disposal, and a reception desk which can be tailored to clinic layout.

Kevin DeWalt, President of CASCO Pet's US business, said: "We know that space can be a real issue in busy veterinary clinics and hospitals, impacting staff movement and efficiency when providing care. That's why efficient storage is so essential, to maximize available space and create a better workflow for the benefit of staff and patients.

"Our adaptable storage solutions have been built to endure the heavy demands of veterinary operations, keeping equipment and consumables well organized and easily accessible, allowing teams to work more efficiently and safely. We look forward to demonstrating at WVC how our innovations can support better, more responsive patient care."

CASCO Pet will also be showcasing its innovative glass WELLKennels, designed to alleviate patient stress, aid recovery and elevate care by providing a calmer, quieter, and more comfortable setting for animals in veterinary care.

The kennels – a modern alternative to stainless steel cages – feature a patented DRC (Daylight, Recovery, Cleaning) Lighting System, enhanced biosecurity, customized temperature control, and a fully integrated control panel for streamlined workflows.

Certified by the International Society of Feline Medicine, WELLKennels are also the first kenneling to be part of FearFree's® Preferred Product Program, the global initiative dedicated to preventing and alleviating fear, anxiety and stress in pets.

CASCO Pet will be at Booth 4037 at the Mandalay Bay Convention Center in Las Vegas, Nevada. The conference, which runs from 2-5 March 2025, brings together professionals from across the sector to learn about the latest trends and advancements in veterinary medicine.
